Eruma plc ('Eruma' or 'the Company')
Installation of Secur™ Security Blinds to
Blue-Chip Client in Financial Services Sector

Eruma plc, the AIM traded specialist provider of counter terrorism, intruder prevention products and intelligent lighting, through its wholly owned subsidiary, Security Blinds Ltd ('Security Blinds'), is undertaking the installation of its Secur™ security blinds at two facilities for an existing blue-chip financial services client. The installation contracts are worth a total of £60,000 and bring the number of installations for this high-profile financial services client up to ten.

Secur™ security blinds provides clients with protection against theft and forced entry, servicing both the public and commercial sectors. The system can also give businesses and institutions the opportunity to take proactive steps to address the modern threat of terrorism. The blue-chip client is currently installing Secur™ blinds at two sites located in Edinburgh and Bristol; one of which is an existing facility and the other a building refurbishment where the blinds were specified at the design stage.

Eruma Chairman David Alexander said, "We have a dedicated approach of strengthening relationships with existing clients which has been rewarded by repeat orders from multiple high-profile clients across the financial services, public and criminal justice sectors. These two orders bring our total order value for this one client alone to just under £160,000 and with this in mind, we continue to implement our strategy of seeking deeper and broader relationships so that we may continue to ensure that our products become the specified solution within our clients' estates."

Notes

Incorporated in March 2005 and listed on AIM, Eruma plc is the holding company for Illuminex Ltd and Security Blinds Ltd.

Security Blinds Ltd is a leading manufacturer of physical security and protection systems in the UK. Servicing both the public and commercial sectors, the patented Secur™ system provides clients with protection against theft and forced entry. The system also gives businesses and institutions the opportunity to take proactive steps to address the modern threat of terrorism; having met stringent testing requirements to win endorsement by the Home Office, Association of Chief Police Officers, leading banks, and local authorities through its ability to protect people, property and equipment from bomb blasts.

Launched in 2009, Security Blinds Ltd also produces the Anti Ram Raid Gate. This gate is installed behind roller shutters to protect against ram raids. Anchored to the inside of the building the retractable barrier resists being rammed by vehicles, including lorries, and will deter roller shutters from being forced open by jacks or breached by angle grinders used by determined thieves.

Illuminex Ltd is a supplier and distributor of intelligent lighting systems. Illuminex solid state systems provide superior performance whilst reducing costs to businesses through reductions in energy consumption and maintenance overhead. This drives a significant reduction of an organisation's impact on the environment through reducing an organisation's carbon footprint, which enables them to seek government funding and loans to implement these solutions.
